U.S. 20 has played a prominent role in the economic development of Iowa since its construction in 1925 when it was known as the Grant Highway. There are just 90 miles to finish the route between Moorland and Merville!

In the current transportation plan, acquisition of land in Calhoun & Sac Counties is scheduled to take place in 2006. A planning study will begin on the westward stretch from US 71 to Merville.

US 20 connects with Nebraska's Hwy. 35, US 20 in Illinois and US 151 in Wisconsin creating The Midwest Connector.

US 20 and good transportation deserve our support. Our active group is composed of local governments, economic development organizations, private businesses and individuals. Our commitment to the completion of US 20 as a four-lane road across the state of Iowa is stronger than ever.

It's not all about concrete—it's about people. We're talking about building another four-lane east-west corridor across the state - stimulating economic development to safely move raw materials, manufactured products, agricultural goods, and visitors across the state of Iowa.

As the four-lane was completed east of Fort Dodge, economic development followed. Growth and prosperity is evident in business and industrial expansion, housing developments, lodging facilities, tourism attractions, recreational opportunities and environmental enhancements.
