WEEKLY COLLECTION

With gratitude for the gifts they have received, our parish family and friends have contributed to the Church $6,907.35 for June 12, 2011.

Dear Fellow Parishioners and Brother Knights, Hope you are all having a great weekend. Our next meeting will be on July 6th at 7pm in Columbus Hall. God Bless, Jim Conner, FS

Choose Life -Although most research has focused on the negative effects of abortion on women, there is another, often over-looked victim: the father. Although some fathers may push the pregnant mother into choosing abortion, there are others who desperately want their baby to live. Imagine the helplessness of these fathers unable to save the life of their unborn child - a situation that can lead to long-term mental health issues. (For all THE MOST HOLY TRINITY men who have helped create an unexpected pregnancy, that they may encourage the expectant mother, we pray...)

Vacation Bible School (VBS) - Come join us for fun, games music, crafts and more at our Son Surf Beach Blast VBS, July 11 - 15, from 9:00am - Noon. You can register in the parish office or the Religious Education office or call 738-8770 for more information.

Confirmation and First Communion Photos -

You can pick up Confirmation and First Communion pictures in the Religious Education office during the week, Monday - Thursday, from 9am - 5pm or call 738-8770.

Top Music countdown - The June Music Countdown is available online. You can review 25 of the hottest songs on the charts (including links to lyrics and videos). This is a great resource for parents. Simply go to www.cornerstonemedia.org, click to the Top Music Countdown Subscribers' link at the top of the page and enter username: tmc1618, and user password: stjoe1618.

400th Anniversary of the King James Bible

Last month marked 400 years since the King James Version of the Bible (KJV) was published. The KJV's contribution to Christian theology and the English language might be debatable but there is no question about its significance to English speaking Christians who needed the Scriptures in a tongue that they could understand, for study, for prayer, and for liturgical purposes. The KJV was not the first English translation of the Bible. Before the KJV there was the Great Bible (1539), the Geneva Bible (1560) and the Bishop's Bible (1568) for the Church of England faithful (Anglicans). The English speaking Catholics had the Douai-Rheims Bible (DR). The DR Bible was translated by the English College of Douai, France and then published in Rheims, France in 1582.

The KJV eclipsed all the previous translations, both Protestant and Catholic, partly because of the readability of its English. The Catholic Bible was so filled with latinized vocabulary that it was unreadable in many places. The KJV appealed to the English speakers because of the quality of its English. But even at that time, late 16th century, a time when the English language was developing in remarkable ways, the language of the KJV was already somewhat archaic. However, the KJV became the preferred bible of most of the English speaking Christians for many years.

There had been much development not only in the translation process but more so in the English language itself since the publication of the KJV. Not only do we have Bibles that are very readable and at the same time relatively faithful to the original Hebrew and Greek texts, bibles have also become less expensive and more available. But the Scriptures remain to be neglected by many Christians, especially Catholics. The Bible is not a museum piece that we lock up in an exhibition case (or we place on our family altar and is rarely read). The Bible, which is God's word, has an alarming tendency to break out of any enclosure and challenge us.

Each summer we have a vacation bible school for children. Why can't we have something similar (without the crafts, but with snacks) for adults. So for four -1½ hr. sessions (July 23, Aug. 2, 9 & 16) we will wrestle with the word of God. The course will be: A (very) short introduction on the New Testament. So on the 400th year of the KJV, let us try to listen more deeply to the consoling and challenging word of God. - Fr. Hermes
